

FTSE EPRA/NAREIT GLOBAL REAL ESTATE INDEX SERIES

The FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Global Real Estate index Series are designed to track the performance of listed real estate companies and REITs worldwide. The series acts as a performance measure of the overall market and is also suitable for use as the basis for investment products, such as derivatives and Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs).

On 21st February 2005, FTSE Group assumed responsibility for the calculation of the EPRA/NAREIT Global Real Estate Index Series. On this date FTSE made changes to the index rules, enhanced the data products and rebranded the indices as the FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Global Real Estate Index Series.

The series is broken down into three index families and 37 indices in Asia Pacific, Europe and North America. These include 12 real-time indices covering the world's largest investment markets in various currencies as well as six Net Total Return Indices (Net TRI). For each of the indices a Price Index and Gross TRI (or Net TRI where applicable) are calculated in local currency, USD, EUR, GBP and JPY. Please refer to the end of the document for further details.

METHODOLOGY

The rules for the indices have been brought in line with the widely used FTSE Global Equity Index Series. Changes include:

- free float methodology changing to FTSE's methodology;
- industry classification methodology will change to the Industry Classification Benchmark (ICB).

For more information, please download the complete FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Global Real Estate Index Ground Rules Feb 2005 at <http://www.ftse.com/realestate>

CLASSIFICATION SYSTEM

The Industry Classification Benchmark (ICB) is the market's most comprehensive classification system. The constituent companies in the FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Real Estate Index Series will be classified according to ICB under "Real Estate Holding & Development" and "Real Estate Investment Trusts."
