FOREWORD

Amid the current challenges posed by inflation, economic headwinds and climate change, it is time to recognise the efforts made this year by EPRA members in complying with the EPRA sustainability standards. 2022 has seen a continuing rise in reporting standards with 77 members receiving a Gold Award and 23 members a Silver Award. In addition, 65% of Members received an Award, up from 62% in 2021. The proportion of companies not receiving an Award has reduced from 38% in 2021 to 32% in 2022. In total, 11 Members moved up an Award category including four companies who moved from Bronze to Silver and seven companies who moved from either Bronze or Silver to Gold.

Dominique Moerenhout - CEO EPRA

We understand, the challenge most listed companies face with the new EU Taxonomy, upcoming CSRD, and European Sustainability Reporting Standard (ESRS) is significant. The listed real estate sector is however prepared and we will be launching a set of guidelines around the EU Taxonomy by the end of September 2022 to further help the industry prepare. It is the 11th year of sustainability reporting, with 28 specific KPIs on ESG, demonstrating continuous improvements of the companies' efforts on transparency and comparability of their ESG data.

The Covid-19 pandemic has made us all focus more on the 'social' and 'governance' aspects of ESG and not just the E. Going forward it is likely that there will be increased demand for assets that match all the three limbs of ESG. Indeed, the war in Europe has also seen the best of the sector with many companies offering assistance and humanitarian help as they did during the pandemic, again demonstrating the commitment to the S.

Finally, I would like to thank our partner JLL for their contribution and support to making this review possible each year, as well as the Sustainability Committee and EPRA's ESG team for their continuous commitment to leading the uptake of the SBPR industry standard across the European sector.

FOREWORD

This year's highlights reflect an increased readiness amongst Members for existing and upcoming ESG reporting regulation, with 108 Members achieving an Award, equal to 65% of EPRA's membership.

Philip Hirst - Director, Sustainability Consulting, JLL

With increasing regulation and stakeholder expectations surrounding environmental, social and governance (ESG) disclosures, it is encouraging to see an active response from EPRA Members reflected in their reporting. As 13 Members received an Award for the first time and 11 moved up an Award level, we are seeing Members establish their readiness.

On the following pages, we are pleased to showcase this year's key achievements, provide a deeper look into Members' reporting against the Performance Measures and Overarching Recommendations by Award level and highlight the ways in which Members can improve their performance. Companies implementing good disclosure practices will not only perform well against the sBPR but are also positioned to respond to changing expectations for non-financial reporting.

The EU Sustainability Finance package which includes the EU Taxonomy Climate Delegated Act and Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive (CSRD) shows a clear direction of travel in this area. These are welcome introductions, which highlight a necessary level of scrutiny of sustainability disclosures, and validates the core aims of the sBPR, to ensure that companies report reliable and comparable sustainability information that investors and other stakeholders need.

As ESG reporting continues to evolve and the industry seeks a consistent and comparable approach, we look forward to building on our 11 year partnership with EPRA and the Sustainability Committee and thank them for all their hard work in advocating for enhanced transparency.

2022 RESULTS SNAPSHOT

In the 11th year of the Sustainability Best Practices Recommendations (sBPR), we are pleased to report an increase in the number of Award winners, from 102 in 2021 to 108 in 2022. This means that 65% of Members received an award, equal to 75% (EUR298 billion) of the total value of all companies included in this year's assessment when weighted by market capitalisation.

This year's 12 new Members add to the diversity of companies being assessed, originating from Norway, Sweden and across Europe, with market capitalisations ranging from EUR66 million to EUR470 million. Most notably one new Member, Regional REIT, received a Bronze Award.

In 2022, 11 Members moved up an Award level and 99 Members improved their score. Castellana, Ascencio, Demire, Prodea Investments and Urban Logistics REIT achieved the most improved scores, ranging from 65%-85%, with all five moving from No Award in 2021 to Silver or Gold this year. This reflects the importance of the sBPR and other industry standards in providing a framework for companies to disclose their ESG information and the willingness of EPRA's Members to improve their reporting.

Overall, 77 Members received a Gold Award (vs. 71 in 2021), 23 received a Silver Award (22) and eight received a Bronze Award (nine). Of the 11 Members who moved up an Award category, four companies moved from Bronze to Silver and seven moved from either Bronze or Silver to Gold. In addition, of the new Award winners, three companies received a Bronze Award, six received a Silver Award, and three received a Gold Award.

Encouragingly, the proportion of Members not receiving an Award reduced from 38% in 2021 to 32% in 2022 despite the increase in membership. This is a sure sign of the industry shift we are witnessing to enhanced ESG disclosures and our Members response to calls for transparency and accountability.

COMMITTING TO IMPROVING PERFORMANCE

Of the 67 Members receiving a Gold Award in 2021 and 2022, 60% improved their score this year by an average of 3%. This is an indication of Member's continuous dedication to using the sBPR as a tool for improving their ESG disclosures.

This year, Gold Members achieved a higher average score on several Overarching Recommendations compared to 2021, including Boundaries - Reporting on landlord and tenant consumption, Location of EPRA Sustainability Performance Measures, Disclosure on own offices and Organisational Boundaries.

We hope the commitment shown by Members to improve their score within a single reporting cycle, encourages all Members to be more ambitious in their reporting.

The EPRA sBPR Adviser tool and the Q&A documents are available to help you understand the guidelines as they relate to your portfolio.

ANALYSIS: PERFORMANCE MEASURES

Companies must report against approximately 60% of the Performance Measures to receive an Award, as they account for half of the total score. This year, 90% of Members reported at least one social Performance Measure and 85% of Members reported at least one environmental Performance Measure, with a slight increase in both since 2021.

Following a similar pattern to 2021, the most reported Performance Measures were related to governance, employee diversity and turnover, green building certifications and GHG emissions. Conversely, the least reported Performance Measures consisted of community engagement, health and safety compliance, gender pay ratio, and waste. Members looking to improve their performance should aim to respond to all Performance Measures, or explain why they are not applicable.

PERCENTAGE OF MEMBERS REPORTING SOCIAL PERFORMANCE MEASURES BY AWARD CATEGORY

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT: H&S-ASSET

In the wake of the Covid-19 pandemic, there has been a greater responsibility for the landlord to manage health and safety aspects across several asset types. This presents an opportunity for companies to disclose what action they are taking or disclose whether the management of such impacts is not within the scope of their responsibility. Therefore, if applicable, companies must report the percentage of assets for which health and safety impacts are assessed or reviewed for compliance or improvement. It is also recommended that they provide context for the nature of these assessments as part of the supporting narrative.

ANALYSIS: PERFORMANCE MEASURES

PERCENTAGE OF MEMBERS REPORTING ENVIRONMENTAL PERFORMANCE MEASURES BY AWARD CATEGORY

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT: WASTE - PROPORTION BY ROUTE

There are two core requirements for Waste-Abs and Waste-LfL, with the second requirement sometimes being overlooked. The first requirement, to report the total weight of waste produced and disposed, is more common. Importantly however, these figures should be complemented by the proportion of weight that is disposed according to the disposal route. It is recommended that both the weight and percentage are disclosed for these routes and according to type (non-hazardous and hazardous) where applicable. It is possible that estimations are required to move from a waste volume to waste weight. In these instances, estimation assumptions and methodology should be clearly stated.

ANALYSIS: OVERARCHING RECOMMENDATIONS

The Overarching Recommendations account for the remaining 50% of the available points. They provide the context for each Performance Measure by explaining the scope, boundaries and limitations of the available data.

Successful reporting therefore requires you to systematically apply the Overarching Recommendations to each Performance Measure.

This year, the most commonly applied Overarching Recommendations include Organisational Boundaries, Normalisation and Disclosure on own offices.

Members who did not receive an Award scored on average 57% lower on these Overarching Recommendations compared to Bronze Award winners.

Members looking to improve their score, or achieve an Award for the first time, should clearly articulate their reporting scope and boundaries, the percentage or number of assets within the organisational boundary, and the reasoning behind any segmental reporting such as by building type and/or location.

ANALYSIS: OVERARCHING RECOMMENDATIONS

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT

BOUNDARIES - REPORTING ON LANDLORD AND TENANT CONSUMPTION (10% OF TOTAL SCORE)

As the number of companies setting emission reduction targets has increased, so too has the scrutiny on the data in scope. A greater emphasis has been made to capture tenant consumption and this has extended even into the regulatory space with the example of The Décret Tertiaire. Members must report, at a minimum, utilities consumption that they are responsible for obtaining themselves (landlord-obtained and billed). This should be clearly labelled. Where energy and water is obtained by the landlord but consumed in tenant areas, and is submetered, such consumption should be itemised. Utilities obtained and consumed solely by the tenant must be reported separately. This applies to all Performance Measures related to energy and water consumption, including intensity measures (Normalisation).

ESTIMATION OF LANDLORD-OBTAINED UTILITY CONSUMPTION (5% OF TOTAL SCORE)

Members must disclose whether the consumption data is calculated using estimations where data is partially unavailable or unreliable. In any such instance, Members must disclose a) the proportion of data estimated; and b) the method used to calculate the estimation. If no estimations are applied, this should be clearly stated. This applies to all Performance Measures related to energy and water consumption.

THIRD PARTY ASSURANCE (5% OF TOTAL SCORE)

Under the CSRD, there will be an EU-wide requirement for the companies in scope to have secured a limited assurance of their reported sustainability information. This assurance can be conducted by third-party companies who are not a statutory auditor but credibility is enhanced if assurance is aligned with recognised standards. For EPRA sBPR disclosure, the full verification statement must be publicly available and a link should be provided if it is not included in the report. It is also recommended that companies work with their assurance provider to ensure the EPRA sBPR Performance Measures in scope are clearly indicated on the assurance statement.

AWARDS METHODOLOGY

A panel of JLL sustainability reporting experts have scored the public disclosure of all EPRA Members against the following three areas of the EPRA sBPR guidelines:

- 16 Performance Measures relating to energy, greenhouse gas emissions, water, waste and building certifications
- 12 Performance Measures relating to social and governance indicators
- 10 Overarching Recommendations which underpin good quality disclosure and should be applied when reporting the EPRA sBPR

INDIVIDUAL FEEDBACK ON AWARDS AND RESULTS

Companies will receive an individual sBPR feedback report prepared by EPRA to help them identify the main focus areas where disclosures need to be improved.

This feedback is an initiative of the EPRA Sustainability Committee to enhance the non-financial reporting of listed property companies and to strengthen the adoption of the EPRA sBPR.

Review Process

Exceptional adherence to sBPR. Scoring above 85%.

High adherence to sBPR. Scoring between 70% & 85%.

Reasonable adherence to sBPR. Scoring between 60% & 69%.

Award recipients who achieved a 30% points YoY increase in their score in comparison to the previous year.
